Hunting in North & South BC

The hunting grounds of our Partner Big Time Hunts Ltd. are, one in the north by the border of the Yukon and Alaska, and one in the south at the famous Oaknagan Valley.

Starting point of the hunts are Whitehorse and Kelowna, which can be achieved by major airlines.

Meet and greet at the Airport or Hotel with our partner. We are happy to reserve your hotel for accommodation on arrival.

Transfer to the camps is done with boats, seaplane or car.

For our Partner it is very important that he offer you a comfortable accommodation. Accommodation is either in cabins or depending on the season and hunted species in tents.

At the end of the season our partner will ship the trophies to you or to the taxidermist. There is also the possibility to prepare the trophies in Canada.

Northern British Columbia

Hunting ground: The hunting ground in northern British Columbia, is located 2 hours from Whitehorse. The only access is via seaplane or boat. Glaciers have shaped the striking coastal mountains. The rough country with numerous lakes and streams offer a dreamlike atmosphere for hunting.

We are offering hunts for Mountain Goat, Canadian Moose, Stone Sheep, Mountain Caribou, Grizzly Bear, Black Bear and Wolf.

Accommodation: Most of the hunts take place from cabins or partially heated tents. When hunting Mountain Goats and Stone Sheep it is possible that you will accommodate in a spike camp for several nights.

Hunting: The hunting season in northern areas starts with the spring hunting of Grizzly and Black Bears. During this time, there is a possibility to hunt Wolves. The beginning of the hunt depends on the melting of snow. Experience has shown that at the end of May and beginning of June the lake can be traveling by boat.

From August 1st, Mountain Goat and Stone Sheep can be hunted. On August 15th, hunts starts on Moose and Caribou. Except Moose, all other hunting seasons closed on October 15th.

Depending on the type of hunted species, the hunt takes 8 or 12 days. In general, the hunts are hunt guidance 1:1.

Besides boats, partly ATV's are used for locomotion.

Northern aera

Southern British Columbia

Hunting ground: The southern hunting area is located in the Oaknagan Valley; it is about 1 hour's flight east of Vancouver in southern Canada. The region is well known by vineyard and offers excellent Puma and Wapiti trophies. A special feature is the hunt for Shiraz Moose, which occurs in addition to the Canadian Moose in British Columbia. The hunting area is easily accessible by forest roads and offers the hunter the best conditions.

We offered hunts for Puma, Wapiti, Shiraz Moose, Grizzly Bear, Black Bear, Whitetail Deer and Mule Deer.

Accommodation: The hunts are done mostly from cabins.

Hunting: From beginning of May there is the possibility to hunt for Black and Grizzly Bears. The hunting of Wapiti starts on September 10th and takes place mainly during the rut. From the beginning of May, there is the possibility for black and grizzly bears to hunt. The hunting season of Shiraz Moose starts at October 1st and ends at November 30th. Depending on snow conditions, using Skidoos is possible. Puma can be hunted from mid-November. The hunt takes place with dogs - they searched fresh tracks and made the Puma.

As in the northern hunting grounds, the duration of hunting is 8 and 12 hunting days. In general, the hunts are guided 1:1.
