- 2 Clients at the same time are not a problem.

Hunting season:

November – April

Hunting Mountain Lion/ Puma

Puma hunting is tough and you might be on the hunt the whole day. Often no break can be taken – you hunt all day long! When the hounds found a track, you have to keep to it. Up to 4 guides accompany a guest with snowmobiles, horses, 4Wheeler, GPRS, ATVs, etc.!

- The hunt starts at 5 a.m. After a short stop at a cafeteria and shopping food for the day, you move on to the hunting area. The whole team immediately starts searching for Puma tracks. As soon as these are found - and there are plenty of those – the hounds are released and the hunt begins! Without exception only mature Mountain Lions are harvested!

- The evening after the hunt you return to the hotel. Here you have all amenities: Shower, dinner in the restaurant, and a good rest.

After the shooting, the Puma is skinned on site and sent to Phil Soucy Taxydermystudios www.thecatman@frontiernet.net, Utah is a rugged, harsh area; Phil is the best around.

The hounds and guides of our partner are the best in the country; they work hard to ensure that their guests return home with trophies! Sometimes the Mountain Lion backs out into inaccessible territory and it is impossible to follow! In this case, the hunt has to be terminated, the guests need to understand and accept this. The hunt is only successful, if there is harmony between nature, humans and animals.

Our partner puts a lot of effort into conducting this hunt - more than into other hunts.

The ultimate aim is success: The Mountain Lion

Should the hunt end early, there are the following options:

- Driving by rental car to Las Vegas and/or to the adjacent national parks
- 1 or 2 days of hunting Pheasants from a gorgeous hunting lodge
- Rebooking / advancement of return flight
