Bird shooting

Thanks to its vast geography and diversity of native species, this South-American country offers one of the best wing shooting proposals of the world.

Our Partner Argentina Bighunting counts with many years of experience in the field; our professional hunters support and take care of our clients personally which also receive the assistance of qualified bird boys and highly trained pointer and retriever dogs. The number of daily rounds shot by the hunters depends on the bird species subject to shoot but in every case shooting will be over the expectations of our guests.

Altogether with wonderful landscapes, a great quantity of recovered pieces, good food, excellent wine, friendliness and shared anecdotes, our partner guarantee an unforgettable hunting trip.

Accommodation:

The accommodations of all our bird hunting programs have excellent quality. We count with unlimited lodging options according to the preferences and budget of our customers. Luxurious hunting lodges, cozy country houses, traditional "estancias" of the place and even a 180 years old palace are some of the choices available for our clients

Following the main goal of our partner, our desire is to place our hunters as close as possible to the hunting grounds in order to avoid unnecessary rides.

Possible Itinerary

For example - Bird combo hunt itinerary

We describe here how could be a normal itinerary for a hunting party, booking a bird combo hunt near Buenos Aires:

Day 01

Our services begin when we receive the hunters at Buenos Aires Int. airport at early morning. We help our clients with the gun clearance preparing the gun introduction forms in advance. Then we take a van and we drive to the lodge directly from the airport. Once we arrive to the lodge we offer a welcome drink. Our chef will prepare lunch afterwards; both Argentinean and International gourmet cuisine will be served at the main dining room.

We go hunting on the afternoon immediately after lunch or after a nap, depending on the decision of the clients. Professional hunter will decide what program would be suitable for the party (doves or perdiz) according to the time and hunting conditions, if we go for perdiz we expect to shoot around of a couple of boxes (10/15 partridges) on the afternoon or 20 boxes if we go for doves. After hunting, snacks and drinks will be offer either in the deck or the living room.

Hunters will ask for the appropriate time for supper which will keep the high standards of our services and will be a happy ending for a long day.

Day 02

We'll wake up the hunter early morning for duck hunting. We shoot around of 4 boxes in normal days. A light breakfast or a complete one is served at request of the hunters. If they rather start the hunting day with a light breakfast we serve a brunch when we come back to the lodge which is very close to the hunting place.

We continue the morning with another shooting activity or hunters will have a break until lunch. We go hunting again on the afternoon (perdiz, doves or pigeon if available)

Day 03 to 04

Similar to day 2 unless that the hunters like to do something different according to the experience of the previous days or new opportunities available at the moment.

Day 05

We go hunting in the morning and after lunch we drive back to Buenos Aires Int. airport and drop off the hunters over there.

Wing shooting:

Dove hunting:

For those who love the sportive dove-shooting, Argentina offers great opportunities which are difficult to find in other parts of the world.

Our big sown plains, the rivers that furrow our lands and the bounding extensions of hill are the perfect habitat for the different species of doves that populate our country.

From the little eared dove (zenaida auriculata) up to the big pigeon (colomba pica zero), all of them move through the airs of all our territory in huge quantities that result unbelievable for the foreign hunters. That's why our partner's dove hunting expeditions have to be experienced since can't be explained. Sportsmen who never had the chance to shoot nearby our dove roosts can't imagine the spectacular flight of hundreds of thousands of birds in the sky.

Bird combo hunts of ducks, perdiz and high volume dove shooting at two hours from Buenos Aires city:

The main goal of our company is to provide the best possible hunts with the best comfort for our client, that's why the main wing shooting area of our partner is conveniently located at two hours by car far from Buenos Aires connected to the capital city of Argentina by a brand new four lanes' highway.

Hunters who arrive down here from abroad the country are received at Buenos Aires International Airport, assisted with their gun clearance and immediately transferred to the hunting area. Given that most of the international flights arrivals take place during early morning our guests usually go hunting on their very first afternoon in the country after a good lunch in the field.

- Season Mixed bag goes from May to August and Dove shooting all year around
- Climate The highest temperatures from November to March the lowest temperatures begin in June and end in September. In the months of April, May and October, the climate is moderate. During the prime of the wing shooting the weather is colder all over the country than but not as cold as Europe or North America.
- Shooting Equipment: Shooting equipment: we strongly recommend bringing at least two shotguns, either side by side, over/under or semiautomatic (maximum 3 cartridges) due to the high volume of birds at some points of the drives.

During our fall we recommend light but strong shirts and trousers, wool sweater, hat and a heavy jacket just in case. Camo gear is allowed in Argentina. Special underwear, gloves and a warm hat use to be useful. As for the foot wear we recommend comfortable water proof boots, suitable for long walks.
